Fontaine Fifth Wheel Welcomes Chad Rucks as National Account Service Manager

JASPER, ALABAMA -- Fontaine Fifth Wheel, a leading manufacturer of high-quality fifth wheel couplings and fleet solutions, is pleased to announce the addition of Chad Rucks as National Account Service Manager.

Rucks brings more than 20 years of experience in fleet maintenance, asset reliability, and service operations to the Fontaine team. He has led large-scale initiatives for organizations, such as Amazon, Mitsubishi Motors North America, Bendix, and U.S. Xpress, consistently improving fleet uptime, reducing total cost of ownership, and strengthening operational performance through data-driven strategies and cross-functional collaboration.

In his new role, Rucks will support Fontaine's national account customers by enhancing service strategies, strengthening key relationships, and delivering customer-focused solutions that help fleets maximize performance and reliability.

"Chad brings an exceptional depth of experience and a strong customer-first mindset to Fontaine Fifth Wheel," said Aaron Puckett, senior vice president, new business development, Fontaine Fifth Wheel. "His proven ability to work alongside fleets, OEMs, and service partners to solve complex challenges aligns perfectly with our commitment to innovation, service excellence, and long-term customer relationships. We are thrilled to welcome him to the Fontaine team."

Rucks is well known throughout the trucking industry for building trusted relationships and driving continuous improvement initiatives that support both operational efficiency and asset reliability.

"I'm excited to join Fontaine Fifth Wheel and be part of a company with such a strong reputation for quality and innovation," said Rucks. "I look forward to working with our customers and internal teams to deliver service solutions that create real value and support reliable fleet operations across the industry."
